Left-overs Each Day At the Meinzer Pastry Shop to Be Given to Needy Families

All day-old pastries of the Meinzer Pastry Shop will be given to needy families of Torrance. It was announced today. "As we have adopted the rigid policy of selling only strictly fresh pastries to our customers, all day-old products will be given to needy families each day," stated Arthur Meinzer, proprietor of the new pastry shop which opened on Wednesday, this week, at 1322 Sartori Avenue, opposite the A. & E. Tea Company.

"If you cannot call yourself, we shall be glad to give the day-old pastries to the children as long as the left-overs last; and if you don't get any, it will only be because we haven't any left," stated Mr. Meinzer.

Hot pastries, fresh from the oven, will be on sale each day beginning at 2 p. m., and hot rolls for dinner will be ready at 4 p. m., Mr. Meinzer stated. A complete line of the famous Langerdorfs bread is also carried by the new pastry shop.

FOR THE SWEET TOOTH Christmas is candy time, there's no doubt about that! Candy should have a place of honor in the honor bon dishes as well as appearing on the Christmas tree in gay tartletan bags so much in vogue when fixing up a real old-fashioned tree. And furthermore, a Christmas stocking is a wee bit disappointing if some kind of candy is not found down in the toe along with a bright orange or apple.

However, nowadays we find uses for candy that never were dreamed of before such as in sauces, cakes, ice creams and as the basis for clever little table favors. Take gum drops, for instance, as they are most versatile.
In the first place, these varicolored chewy candies may be cut into leaves, strips, circles and even halved for Christmas bells, forming attractive designs on Christmas cakes or on ice cream mixtures that have been molded in little individual waxed paper cups.
Then again, different colored gum drops can be cut with wet scissors into small pieces and added to a plain sauce that will dress up a pudding in gay colors.
But that isn't all! Gumdrops pieces may be added to a refrigerator ice cream mixture after it is frozen to a mush, or even added to a plain cake batter with regular "rainbow" results.
Peppermint candies can be crushed and melted with the milk called for in an ice cream recipe and you will have a delicately flavored and colored ice cream.
And what's more, are grandest accompaniment with this peppermint ice cream is a chocolate sauce, and if you are rushed for time, just melt old-fashioned chocolate creams in a double boiler.

Marshmallow Ice Cream

This will result in a rich, creamy sauce that you will like.
Marshmallows can turn up in many unexpected places to good advantage. As a topping on mashed sweet potatoes they are well known, and if perched on top of a baked apple and browned, they possess great ability to please the family. Of all the many interesting ways to stir marshmallows in the menus, one of my favorites is:
Marshmallow Ice Cream
1 cup milk 12 marshmallows
1 cup heavy cream 2 teaspoons vanilla Place the milk and marshmallows in top of double boiler and heat until marshmallows are melted. Let chill until starting to congeal. Add cream which has been whipped and flavoring. Pour into refrigerator tray, stirring once when it first starts to freeze.
Serves six.

and salt water fish will be offered every day.

A 38-caliber nickel-plated revolver was found in their possession.
The men were brought to the station, where later in the morning they were positively identified by Jesus Ramirez, 4905 Electric avenue, as two of the men who had held up and ransacked his house on the Tuesday preceding the arrest.
A third youth, James Jensen, age 18, residing at 4925 Linden street, Inglewood, was located in the Culver City jail where he was being held for questioning regarding a stolen car. The Culver City authorities were unable to make out a case against Jensen and the youth was brought to Torrance for questioning in connection with the nightly raids in this district.
Captain Jack Neighbors and Deputy Sheriff Keenan of sheriff's sub-station No. 3, assisted the local officers in grilling the trio, and Jensen finally confessed his part in the robberies and implicated the other two who stubbornly held out in maintaining their innocence.

The three were identified by Mrs. E. M. Fukuda, 4954 Hickman street, and Mr. Jullhara, Prairie avenue and 182nd street, who were victims of the hold-up men on Monday morning. George King, residing on San Pedro street, who lost $28 to three hold-up men on the same morning at about the same hour, failed to identify the men.
The men were arraigned Saturday and preliminary hearing was held yesterday when all were bound over to the supreme court.
According to Jensen the three men had participated in two robberies in Redondo Beach, three in Torrance, three in the county territory patrolled by officers of substation No. 3, and several burglaries in Los Angeles besides the hold-up of 14 milkmen at various points in that city.

mas.
